

Are Women Really For Women?

Are Women Really for Women?

I wish I could say that Republican women have been the news makers recently, but I cannot. The Democrat presidential candidates, female politicians, and "The Squad" are the news makers or more like noise makers. Kamala Harris, Elizabeth Warren, Rashida Talib, AOC, Ilhan Omar, Ayanna Pressley, Maxine Walters, Nancy Pelosi, and Shelia Jackson Lee all love to make "noise." They are all defiant voices of the communities and districts that produced them. They were purposely placed into their positions to carry out their socialist anti-American agenda. Their hatred and disdain for President Trump far outweighs anything they ever do or say to demonstrate they want to bring fairness and justice to America. They are so afraid Donald Trump will win re-election in 2020 that they are seeking to impeach him.

Sadly, there are women that act just like the defiant female Democrat politicians in Washington. Unfortunately, they love to act disrespectfully to other women. They love to stir controversy and belittle people. When they run out of argument when someone challenges them, they turn to trashing and slandering their family members. They are vicious and show no mercy. They are bullies. There is nothing lady like about these women. They display no manners, no ethics, and no consideration for anyone. I guess these actions make them feel superior and better about them self which is sad. Only weak-minded people act this way. This sounds way too familiar of the female politicians in Washington. I see female Democrats doing and saying awful pathetic things on national tv all the time. I have come to expect it. Just look at how they have mistreated and disrespected First Lady Melania Trump. However, it truly bothers me when I see the same hatred and bitterness at a local level.

There are women that clearly have made a stand that they resent the good works of Republican women trying to make a difference. There are women who love to be in the center of controversy and belittle an adversary. I expect such ugly behavior from Democrats but certainly not Republicans. When a woman cannot interact with another woman in a civilized and respectful manner, that woman has a serious problem. Often, when a female is critical of other women that female clearly lacks self-confidence. Strong women won't put down other women; instead they lift them up. Any informed and knowledgeable woman knows and understands that people are different on many levels. Values and perspectives will differ.

We don't have to agree but we should respect the individual. Instead of constantly complaining, finding fault, and sticking a nose where it doesn't belong, women should get out and help the party. If a person doesn't intend to help the cause, the least they can do is not hurt it. But we all know those miserable people only want to annihilate and create division.

With so much at stake in 2020,
a true Republican woman will treat other women and all people with respect. A true Republican woman will relish in the successes of other women.
A true Republican woman will become engaged to help ensure Republicans
wins seats in 2020. Republican women need to join forces and seek to gain the majority in Columbus County. Have you met the Democratic women leaders of our county? That alone should be incentive to get start a movement.

The focus for Republican women should be on one goal for 2020, to re-elect President Donald Trump, to elect a Republican governor for our state, and to elect as many conservative Republicans
as possible. We will not accept anything else and naysayers and whiners will not stop us.

Let's get moving ladies.
